

INFO-Tracker™ Software

Optimizing the business of property management.

Today's economic conditions and competitive marketplace demand that property management companies optimize their organizational processes and leverage technology to: enhance operational activities; base decisions on business performance insight; increase productivity; improve client service; and, ultimately, drive profitability.

INFO-Tracker™ property, maintenance and asset management software from Netintegrity, helps companies of all sizes, in every segment of the property management industry, transform operational data into business insights about company performance, cost control, customers and service delivery. This cost-effective, comprehensive and easy-to-use solution provides automated functionality, flexibility, scalability and management controls that allow organizations to do more with limited resources. INFO-Tracker is customizable to reflect the unique workflow and business processes of every property management organization.

With INFO-Tracker, property managers derive real business intelligence that helps them optimize business processes, manage day-to-day activities, generate forecasts to plan for the future and proactively respond to customer needs - the key ingredients to increasing customer satisfaction, market share and profits.
